Loyola Press Sunday Family Connections

Gospel Reading
Luke 24:13-35

Jesus appears to two disciples who are walking to Emmaus.

Families, as the domestic church, have the opportunity to make the family meal a time of prayerful encounter with one another and with Jesus. At a family meal we share our experiences of the day and connect them with the experiences of others in the family. We can also enjoy the meal as an opportunity to reflect upon our family life in light of Scripture. At their best our family meals can connect us to Jesus too.

Choose a family meal this week to share one another's experiences of the week in a special way. Perhaps invite family members to plan and prepare the meal together. Begin the meal by reading today's Gospel, Luke 24:13-35. As you eat, talk together about how the disciples discussed their experiences in Jerusalem and how they came to understand them differently when Jesus interpreted those events in the light of Scripture. Then invite each family member to share the things that are going on in his or her life. Consider what Jesus might say to each person if he were sitting at your dinner table. Conclude with a special prayer after your dinner. Pray a prayer of blessing for each family member, asking that Jesus continue to be present in each person's life, helping each one to be a better follower of Jesus. Conclude with a Sign of Peace.

Prayer before Mass - St. Thomas Aquinas

Almighty and ever-living God, I approach the sacrament of Your only begotten Son Our Lord Jesus Christ. I come sick to the doctor of life, unclean to the fountain of mercy, blind to the radiance of eternal light, and poor and needy to the Lord of heaven and earth.

Lord, in your great generosity, heal my sickness, wash away my defilement, enlighten my blindness, enrich my poverty, and clothe my nakedness. May I receive the bread of angels, the King of kings and Lord of lords, with humble reverence, with purity and faith, repentance and love, and the determined purpose that will help to bring me to salvation.

May I receive the sacrament of the Lord's Body and Blood, and its reality and power. Kind God, may I receive the Body of Your only begotten Son, our Lord Jesus Christ, born from the womb of the Virgin Mary, and so be received into His mystical body and numbered among His members.

Loving Father, as on my earthly pilgrimage I now receive Your beloved Son under the veil of a sacrament, may I one day see him face to face in glory, who lives and reigns with You forever. Amen.
- Saint Thomas Aquinas

Today's Reflection THIRD SUNDAY OF EASTER (Year A) Sunday April 19, 2026

Sinners yet Loved

Suppose you and I are walking along in the countryside, and a stranger starts to stroll along with us.

"What are you discussing as you walk along?" he asks? We stop, dejected.

One of us, maybe you, says to him in reply, "are you the only person in the world who does not know of the things that have taken place during these years and these centuries?"

He replies, "What sort of things?"

You say, "we had promised to continue Christ's works, to revere his presence, to preserve his love and to let it overflow through us to everyone." You stare at the ground. "But now the Church is falling apart. So much is happening, including betrayal of the Church's mission."

"Betrayal?" the stranger says.

"Yes. We found out that some of our own priests and even some Bishops have gone against the very mission they were sent to preach. And churches are closing in all the cities, and dioceses are going bankrupt! And hardly anyone is entering the priesthood now, so how are we going to have the sacraments?"

I gesture to you with a "calm down" motion, but you go right on talking.

"We have crucified Christ all over again! Oh, we were hoping that he would make the whole world come right!"

"How slow of heart you are to believe all that the prophets spoke," he says quietly. "Is it not necessary that the Christ should suffer these things even today and so enter into his glory?"

"What do you mean?" you stutter. "Why should he suffer? And worse, why would he let all these horrors happen, in Ukraine and the South and, and, and, and ..."

He raises his hand. He begins to tell us everything that refers to himself in the scriptures, beginning with Moses and all the prophets. His voice is very kind. He shows how God had endlessly sought a loving relationship with his people, and how these would agree for a while but then turn their backs and run away. Battles and wars, belief and unbelief, rich versus poor and sick, the very ones who are aching for love.

He tells us that there is only one way the human heart could say Yes to God and mean it.

One human being had to do it on behalf of us all, one who was human to the core and who could not refuse to remember God's love, even in the midst of mindless suffering and death. This one would be with the troubled people of the world, be with them in every pain and also every joy of their lives. God's love, he said, is stronger than death.

The stranger goes on with us and stays with us. He walks with human beings now, with a love so deep that we can always count on it, even if we are sinners. It is a love which strengthens us and sends us out. It is God's love.

You are calm now as we walk, and I am too. Maybe the resurrection did happen, you whisper to me so that the stranger cannot hear it. We both nod. We have recognized him. We see him in the breaking of the bread, but also and astoundingly in the breaking bones of the world.
