Gospel Reading
 Matthew 26:14—27:66

Jesus is crucified, and his body is placed in the tomb.

Palm, or Passion, Sunday begins the most sacred week of the Church year—Holy Week. During these days, we prepare ourselves for Easter by prayerful reflection upon the events of Jesus' Passion and death. You might display a crucifix in a prominent place this week, as reminder of the salvation Christ won for us. The crucifix can also be the focal point for family prayer during Holy Week. Because of the length and complexity of the Passion narrative, young children have difficulty remaining attentive when it is proclaimed in its entirety. Families can choose to read a portion of this Sunday's Gospel each day of Holy Week, providing ample opportunity for children to ask questions and respond to the events described there. In this way, the entire week can become a "way of the cross." Each day during Holy Week, the family can gather in a prayerful space with a crucifix as the focal point. The Passion as found in Matthew's Gospel might be read as follows throughout the week:
 Sunday: Matthew 21:1-11 (Gospel at the Procession with Palms)
 Monday: Matthew 26:14-25
 Tuesday: Matthew 26:26-35
 Wednesday: Matthew 26:36-56
 Thursday: Matthew 26:57—27:14
 Friday: Matthew 27:15-54
 After reading from the Gospel each night, the family might reflect on the reading together. Conclude your prayer time together by praying the Lord's Prayer and/or singing an appropriate hymn, such as "Jesus, Jesus," "Were You There?" or "What Wondrous Love Is This."

Prayer before Mass - St. Thomas Aquinas

Almighty and ever-living God, I approach the sacrament of Your only begotten Son Our Lord Jesus Christ. I come sick to the doctor of life, unclean to the fountain of mercy, blind to the radiance of eternal light, and poor and needy to the Lord of heaven and earth.

Lord, in your great generosity, heal my sickness, wash away my defilement, enlighten my blindness, enrich my poverty, and clothe my nakedness. May I receive the bread of angels, the King of kings and Lord of lords, with humble reverence, with purity and faith, repentance and love, and the determined purpose that will help to bring me to salvation.

May I receive the sacrament of the Lord's Body and Blood, and its reality and power. Kind God, may I receive the Body of Your only begotten Son, our Lord Jesus Christ, born from the womb of the Virgin Mary, and so be received into His mystical body and numbered among His members.

Loving Father, as on my earthly pilgrimage I now receive Your beloved Son under the veil of a sacrament, may I one day see him face to face in glory, who lives and reigns with You forever. Amen.
 - Saint Thomas Aquinas

Today's Reflection PALM SUNDAY OF LENT (Year A) Sunday March 29, 2026

Contrasts

Palm Sunday contains a contrast that tells us in advance what Holy Week is all about. This is why Sunday is called both "Palm Sunday" and "Passion Sunday."

The two Gospels set up the contrast. That is right, two Gospels. The first is read at the very beginning of the ceremony, during the procession of palms. Jesus is making a triumphant entrance into Jerusalem. The people are cheering wildly: "The whole city stirred to its depths," Matthew tells us. Some people are asking, "Who is this?" and others in large numbers replying, "This is the prophet Jesus from Nazareth in Galilee!"

They soften his pathway, laying out palm branches before him and even spreading their own coats on the road. He is their man. They treat him as a king!

What a "kingdom of God" this had turned out to be.

The Church procession reaches the front of the church, with parishioners holding actual palm fronds to illustrate the story. Mass continues, and the readings come. And now the tables are turned. In the second Gospel, we hear a reading of the passion according to Matthew. Here, Jesus the king is handed over to authorities, betrayed by one of his own disciples, and he completes his kingly entry to Jerusalem by receiving a royal robe of mockery and a crown of pain.

He did not turn away from this mockery. In fact he "set his face like flint" toward his humiliation (as it says in the First Reading of Sunday's Mass; see also Luke 9:51-55).

This reading states the contrast beautifully. It is a passage from Isaiah, and is called the "Third Song of the Suffering Servant." The first part of this reading says, "The Lord God has given me a well-trained tongue, that I might know how to speak to the weary a word that will rouse them." This he did, and was applauded for it, treated like a king.

The second part says, "I have not rebelled, have not turned away. I gave my back to those who beat me" Jesus knew well this passage from Isaiah.

So Palm/Passion Sunday presents a huge contrast between the world's view of kingship and the holy and humble meaning of it. The Church has set up Sunday's liturgy specifically for this purpose. Jesus begins as a hero and ends as an object of ridicule.

In this contrast, Jesus shows himself as a man of great humility. Each of us, including Jesus, is designed to love and be loved, to empty ourselves of any bad habit or out-of-control urge that pushes us toward pride. We become ourselves by remaining true to the God of Love who lives within us. Neither shame nor renown can pull us away from this, if we follow Jesus in his humility.

And then God will highly exalt him. God will say to the crowd, you were right about throwing palms, but not if you were trying to create a worldly hero. Real glory and greatness reside in quiet, unrelenting love, no matter how other people react.

We are in the presence of great truth here.
